

What's Intermission?

Intermission is more than a break, it is a discipleship year for those at the quarter life stage (17-22). It is a time for re-evaluation of life direction, rethinking of worldviews, refuelling for discipleship, and reordering of priorities in life for the world in which we live.

Successful completion of the academic components in Intermission will give you a Carey Certificate in Applied Theology (NZQA accredited) that will be an invaluable foundation for the future.

Your year includes

PARTNERSHIP

Each student is placed within a 'partnership' where you will be mentored, discipled, and given an opportunity to discuss all that you are being exposed to over the year. Your partnership is where you will go to evaluate what you are learning.

PRACTICE

As part of your academic study and discipleship process you will be required to spend a day each week working with an organisation. This will provide an opportunity to apply your study, engage with a community, serve an organisation, and think about your vocation. Places of practice may include: urban vision, OMF, Prison Fellowship, Papatoetoe Adolescent Christian Trust and others, or a personal option approved by the Intermision Co-ordinator.

An international or local (New Zealand) mission exposure trip will also occur mid-year.

PULL BACK

Retreats and social nights will happen regularly through the year. There will be a 3 day 'Pull-Back' at the beginning of the year, one more within the year, and a final 'Pull-Back' at the end. Intermisioners will also have a meal together once every 3 weeks. Your fellow IMers make up a big part of your year!

Commitment Statement

From academic to hands on experience, from character development to discipleship training, from weekly group times to overnight retreats, by applying for Intermision you commit yourself to all aspects of the year because that is how you get the most out of it.

INTERMISSION?

Where to start?!

"The main highlight was the community and closeness of the group; growing together as a family. We started as strangers and connected really well. Intermision has given me a huge openness and new eyes for the world. It opened me up to hearing God's voice and calling for my life. It changed how I treat people and how I see things.

You also get a deeper understanding of the Bible and how you can live that out practically."
